

The community has responded so enthusiastically to our Pearl Homes Program. At the end of May, we had 600 Pearl Homes in Virginia Beach. Thank you to everyone who has become a part of this program and thanks for all the great things you are doing. Look for our flags in your neighborhood and tell your neighbors about the program. Here are our new Pearl Home recipients.

What's Under the Ground?

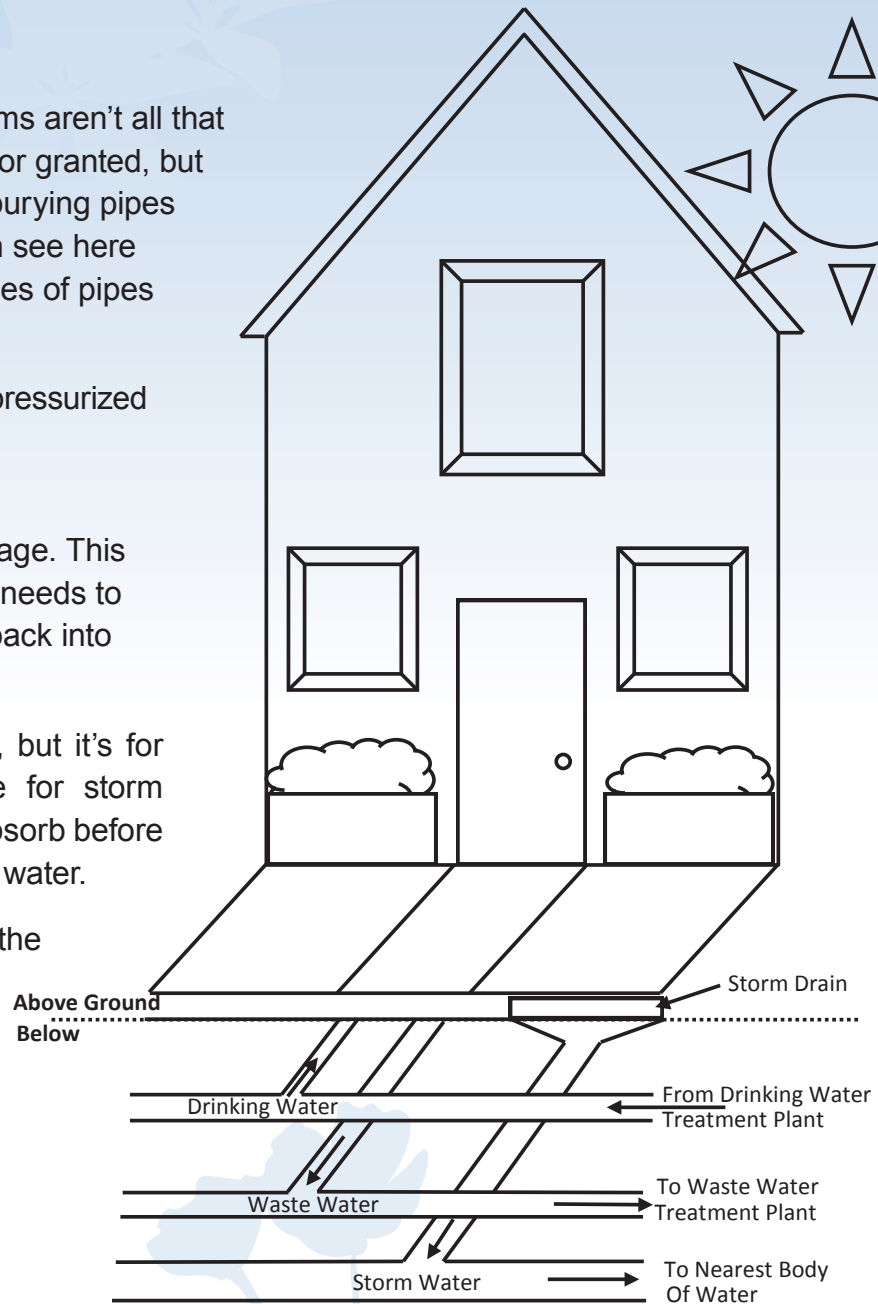

If you look underground, dirt and worms aren't all that you'll find! Often we take our utilities for granted, but someone had to go to the trouble of burying pipes beneath the street to do that! You can see here that there are often three different types of pipes that carry water.

The first one is for drinking water. It's pressurized and is pumped from your local water treatment plant.

The second is for wastewater, or sewage. This water has been used by people, so it needs to be treated before it can be released back into the environment.

The bottom pipe might surprise you, but it's for storm water. Runoff, another name for storm water is water that the ground can't absorb before it flows away into the nearest body of water.

We can reduce pollution by reducing the water that goes into the storm drain.
